CLASSIC CORNER

1970 Plymouth Duster 340

This week's classic comes to us by way of Neel Roberts of Vulcan, who purchased this car in a partially-restored state near Grassland, Alta., in September 2001. Neel says this beauty was a track racer in its early days, but essentially sat in someone's barn for many years until he saw it up for sale on the Internet. Neel and mechanic Mark Rose finished off the body details, put on the original Rally rims and tidied up some mechanical fine points. The engine is rated at 500 horsepower, and Neel says the Duster turns plenty of heads when he's on the road. Right now, it's ready for hibernation at his Vulcan-area ranch. Thanks, Neel, and keep motorin'!
